RECREATION AND PARKS

INTRODUCTION

Alberta Recreation and Parks is pleased to provide this Sport and Recreation Resource Guide. It has been developed in order to improve the communication and coordination among sport and recreation organizations and agencies.

This guide identifies the major organizations that provide programs and services to the sport and recreation community in Alberta. It is hoped that this document will assist associations and interested individuals in the utilization of available programs and services.

Appreciation is extended to all organizations and agencies who have taken the time to supply information to be included in this guide. Without their contribution, this project would not have been possible. Special acknowledgement is given to the Sports Federation of Canada for information on national programs and organizations.

The compilation of information is accurate at the time of printing. However, due to a constantly changing sport and recreation scene, some details in the material are subject to change.

New to the Resource Guide for 1990 is the Ministry Program Summary.

RECREATION AND PARKS

PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS AND SUPPORT AGENCIES

Alberta Recreation and Parks is the provincial government department that is directly responsible for the recreation and sport delivery system in Alberta. While the majority of programs and services for sport and recreation associations are provided through Alberta Recreation and Parks, a number of other provincial government agencies also offer services to these associations. The following is a description of several provincial government departments and agencies that assist the recreation and sport community in Alberta.

ALBERTA ADVANCED EDUCATION

ALBERTA HERITAGE SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The Alberta Heritage Scholarship Fund provides a variety of scholarships to reward and encourage those people who have attained exceptionally high standings in the arts, sciences and humanities, in their careers, recreational and athletic activities, as well as at the high school, undergraduate and graduate levels.

Each scholarship is named after an historically prominent Albertan who has made a significant contribution to the development of the province. Two of these scholarship programs are specific to athletics and recreation. These are the Jimmie Condon Athletic Scholarships and the J. Percy Page Recreation Awards. The following is a brief description of each of these scholarship programs.

1. Jimmie Condon Athletic Scholarships

The Jimmie Condon Athletic Scholarships acknowledge excellence by rewarding athletes at Alberta universities, colleges and technical institutions. These scholarships provide recognition of the sustained commitment required at this level of athletic competition and encourage students to continue their academic studies.

- a. members of a designated inter-university, college or technical institute team; or
- b. members of a provincial disabled athlete team recognized under the Alberta Athlete Development Program; or
- c. members of a non-designated team or participants in individual sports recognized under the Alberta Athlete Development Program.

Students must be Alberta residents, attending full-time, achieving a satisfactory academic standing, and maintaining a practice and training program acceptable to their coach.

Designated sports are those which, as a minimum, involve six games or competitions leading to a national championship. At the university level, this includes the following: basketball, field hockey, football, gymnastics, ice hockey, soccer, swimming and diving, track and field (including cross country), volleyball and wrestling.

At colleges and technical institutes, the designated sports are: basketball, volleyball, ice hockey and badminton.

Awards will be given only to those students attending institutions in Alberta.

2. J. Percy Page Recreation Awards

The J. Percy Page Recreation Awards foster recreational leadership in Alberta communities by assisting outstanding amateur coaches, officials and other dedicated volunteers to further their training anywhere in the world.

The awards, to a maximum of $3,000, will assist in the payment of direct expenses for part-time and short-term study or attendance at conferences and workshops.

Individual applicants must be Alberta residents, endorsed by their local recreation board or recognized provincial sport or recreation association; enrolled or plan to enroll in part-time or short-term full-time study, or plan to attend a conference or workshop related to recreation.

In addition, Alberta agencies, institutions or associations involved in providing recreational programs may apply for funds to assist in providing recognized resource personnel to conduct recreational training seminars and workshops.

ALBERTA CONSUMER AND CORPORATE AFFAIRS

CORPORATE REGISTRY

Sport and Recreation Associations that are recognized by Alberta Recreation and Parks must be incorporated by Corporate Registry of Alberta Consumer and Corporate Affairs. Once incorporated, all associations must operate in accordance with the provisions set out in the Societies Act. Failure to carry out certain responsibilities could result in both removal from Corporate Registry active records and loss of recognition and funding by Alberta Recreation and Parks.

In order to maintain status as a registered society, the following guidelines should be adhered to:

1. Annual General Meetings

Societies must hold annual general meetings in Alberta and must present at that meeting a financial statement setting out the society's income, disbursements, assets and liabilities. The financial statement must be audited and signed by the society's auditor. (Section 21 of the Societies Act.)

2. Filing of Annual Returns

Every year, before the last day of the month following its anniversary month, a society must send a completed Annual Return to Corporate Registry.

The annual return must have attached to it a list of the directors and/or officers of the society. This list must include the directors' and officers' full names, their positions, and their mailing addresses including postal codes.

Also, the audited financial statement presented to society members at the last annual meeting must be attached to the annual return. Societies may find it convenient to set a date for the annual meeting which is before the date the annual return is due and after the end of the society's fiscal year. This will allow enough time to have the audited financial statement completed for presentation at the annual meeting, and subsequently filed at Corporate Registry.

To assist the society, Corporate Registry will send out a preprinted annual return to the registered office every year before the society's anniversary month. If for some reason the form is not received, or if it has been misplaced, the society should contact Corporate Registry before the annual return is due.

IT IS THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE SOCIETY TO FILE AN ANNUAL RETURN EVERY YEAR. (Section 22 of the Societies Act.)

3. Register of Members

A society must keep a list of its members, together with the following particulars of each:

- full name and home address;
- the date on which they became a member;
- the date on which they ceased being a member;
- the class of membership, if any, to which they belong.

This list must be kept at the society's registered office and made available to members on demand. (Section 3.1 of the Societies Act.)

4. Registered Office

A society must have a registered office in Alberta. A change of address for the registered office must be filed at Corporate Registry within 15 days of the change. Contact Corporate Registry to obtain a "Notice of Change of Address" form (Section 2.0 of the Societies Act).

RECREATION AND PARKS

PROVINCIAL SUPPORT ORGANIZATIONS

The following provincial recreation and sport associations also provide support opportunities to interested individuals, agencies and organizations in Alberta.

ALBERTA ASSOCIATION OF RECREATION FACILITY PERSONNEL

This is a voluntary association of people who work in various recreation facilities within the Province of Alberta. Anyone interested in the field of recreation and the operation/management of recreation facilities is welcome to join this Association. The major goal of the Association is to provide a communication link among those who work in the field, so that service to our clients is as advanced as possible. The Association shares information about what works best, what provides the most effective operation, upgrades the skill levels of its members, and stays abreast of the new technologies. Some of the services include:

1. A newsletter published five times a year entitled Leisure Lines. The articles are designed to inform and keep members aware of what is happening in Alberta, other provinces and around the world. The information is current, accurate, informative and entertaining.
2. Each of the seven Zone Representatives holds a variety of meetings each year, to which all members of that Zone are invited. The topics of discussion cover a good mixture of items in an attempt to meet the needs of all individuals who attend.
3. An annual conference is held at the same time as the annual general meeting. There is a broad spectrum of ideas and information presented. Opportunities to share successes (and failures!) with colleagues is an important aspect of this conference.
4. Level I and II arena and swimming pool operators courses and a sports field operators course are offered. All of the courses are offered with the cooperation of Alberta Recreation and Parks. These programs enable employers to be confident that their employees have the technical information required to provide safe and effective operations for their facilities.
5. On an ad hoc basis, a variety of issues are dealt with as required. The Association is currently chairing the committee that is reviewing the "Standards of Practice for Swimming Pools". It has initiated a study on air quality in indoor swimming pools and has produced a document dealing with energy management in facilities.

We are committed to the recreation facility personnel of Alberta and the people of Alberta who use our facilities.

REVENUE CANADA

If an organization conforms to certain requirements it may be issued a "charitable registration number" by Revenue Canada Taxation signifying that it is registered as a charity for income tax purposes.

Once registered, an organization can issue receipts for donations which may be deducted from the donor's income for tax purposes. Registration also exempts an organization from paying tax on income under Part I of the Income Tax Act.

Registration is granted if an organization's objectives, and activities or proposed activities are considered charitable. Charitable objectives and activities are grouped into the following categories:

- the relief of poverty;
- the advancement of religion;
- advancement of education; and
- other purposes beneficial to the community as a whole in a way the law regards as charitable.

Generally, an organization whose purpose is to promote sport will not be eligible for charitable registration. However, an organization established for the achievement of a charitable purpose through the playing of sports (for example, undertaking sporting activities for the disabled to improve their motor skills) may qualify for charitable registration under the Income Tax Act. In addition, an organization whose purpose is to provide a community facility for healthy recreation may be eligible for registration.

On the other hand, organizations established primarily for the provision of social activities will not qualify for charitable registration.

"An organization that does not qualify for charitable registration may qualify for exemption from tax as a non-profit organization under paragraph 149(1)(1) of the Income Tax Act. Non-profit status exempts an organization from tax under Part 1 of the Income Tax Act. Determination of this status and filing requirements of such organizations are discussed in Interpretation Bulletin IT-496, available at any District Taxation Office."
